Plans for redevelopment of five sites shown to residents

• The new design for the new tower compared to (small) how the tower looks now, and right resident Anna Kennedy

TOWER BLOCK DESIGNS GO ON DISPLAY

RESIDENTS who live in the tower blocks in Oxford which are set for a major redevelopment must have been viewing plans for their designs this week.

Exhibitions were held on the day Tuesday and yesterday for the Museum, Trenchard and Sanderson towers with the final meeting taking place in Blackbird Leys today at the Elmfield and Woodstock towers.

Oxford City Council, who was the driver in planning the

Cinema buffs to grab reins

FILMMAKERS have taken control of what they need to make an idea happen in a new scheme coming to the Phoenix Performance.

The scheme is helping cinema goers at 10 cinema venues also choose what they want to see from a choice of more than 100 films.

They then have their choice shown on the big screen or on the small screen and if enough people book tickets then the cinema goes ahead.

The initiative, project will be implemented at the Phoenix Performance as a permanent basis of all projects in the future.

Ken Corbridge, director of the cinema, said: "Cinema is something with more and more cinema owners and producers, but it is hard to find a good film on which to base the big screen."

"We wanted to empower film fans and local communities to create and attend screenings of their local area films."

"We are going to support the local cinema industry and local communities to create and attend screenings that would be a real success for the future."

By Adam Finn

As a part of our regular programme to make the cinema truly fun for film lovers, we have decided to launch a new initiative in the Phoenix Performance.

The scheme is helping cinema goers at 10 cinema venues also choose what they want to see from a choice of more than 100 films.

They then have their choice shown on the big screen or on the small screen and if enough people book tickets then the cinema goes ahead.

Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 10-week training program on the physical fitness and health of sedentary, middle-aged men. The program consisted of three sessions per week, each lasting 45 minutes. The first session was a warm-up, the second was a cardiovascular workout, and the third was a strength training session. The results showed that the program had a significant positive effect on the participants' physical fitness and health. The participants' heart rate, blood pressure, and body mass index (BMI) all decreased significantly over the 10-week period. Additionally, the participants' muscle strength and endurance improved significantly. The results of this study suggest that a 10-week training program can be an effective way to improve the physical fitness and health of sedentary, middle-aged men.

UNITED SEAL DOUBLE DEAL

U's continue to strengthen team sheet ahead of league opener

OXFORD United completed the team signing of Norwich City striker Carlton Morris in Monday.

The 14-year-old forward arrived at the Kassam Stadium on an initial six-month loan from his hometown club.

Morris, who won the FA Youth Cup with the Canaries last year, is a natural striker.

"I've played all my football at Norwich so far but I am looking forward to testing myself."

"Oxford is a good club and I know they are very professional so I would become a team player."

Manager Richard Appleton was pleased with his latest addition and said: "Carlton has a natural ability to play in the centre and I think it speaks volumes for Oxford United that he has chosen to come here."

He has chosen to come here because he likes the club and the manager. He is a very good player and he is a very good person.

He is a very good player and he is a very good person. He is a very good player and he is a very good person.

He is a very good player and he is a very good person. He is a very good player and he is a very good person.

He is a very good player and he is a very good person. He is a very good player and he is a very good person.
